"The Weight" is an original song by the Canadian-American group The Band that was released as Capitol Records single 2269 in 1968 and on the group's debut album Music from Big Pink. Written by Band member Robbie Robertson , the song is about a visitor's experiences in a town mentioned in the lyric's first line as Nazareth.

The Weight - Wikipedia

The song was never a big hit, but it endures as a classic rock staple. The Band's guitarist, Robbie Robertson, claims this was influenced by the work of Luis Buñuel, a Spanish director who made some of the first movies dealing with surrealism. Robertson was intrigued by the characters in his films, who were often good people who did bad things.
